MacArthur Cites New Move As Definite Threat To Australia's Shores

By International News Service Allied and Japanese forces were locked in battle today on two fronts in the southwest Pacific. Engagements were being fought between land, sea and air forces in the Tulagi-Guadalcanal area of the Solomon islands and 600 miles to the west at Milne bay on the southeastern tip of New Guinea.

Developments in the battle of the Solomons were termed by the Navy department in Washington as "encouraging" for our side. The Marines were reported holding their own on land after ousting the Japs from important positions. Latest tabulations indicated 14 or 15 Jap warships and auxiliary vessels had been damaged by American bombs as air and naval forces beat off enemy attempts at a counter-invasion. In New Guinea United States flying fortress bombers, Marauders and Kittyhawk fighters blasted and harried the Japanese after the enemy succeeded in landing troops from a small convoy. Allied ground forces gave battle.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur revealed in a communique that this latest offensive action by the Japanese so far had cost them the loss of one transport and six barges which were sunk, heavy damage to a cruiser, which probably was sunk, and damage to a destroyer.

To this destruction probably should be added the sinking of a Jap gunboat South of the Trobriand islands. Gen. MacArthur announced the latter sinking yesterday and it is believed the gunboat was part of the convoy which moved down to Milne bay.

The new enemy landing, MacArthur disclosed, was effected Tuesday night. The Jap ground forces came ashore at Milne Bay from a small convoy of warships and transports.

Apportionment Of Manpower Between Armed Service And Industry Studied

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—The War department today was reportedly preparing to ask Congress to permit the drafting of 18 and 19 year old youths into the military service.

Rep. Sabath (D) Ill., chairman of the House Rules Committee, predicted that Congress will be requested to act on the matter before January.

The War department has long favored drafting of 18 and 19 year old youths but Congress previously turned thumbs down on such a step.

Open support for the new conscription measure will come from the Selective Service when the request is placed before Congress.

Sabath said that all conditions point to such a request being made and added that his committee is ready to rush the measure through preliminary parliamentary routine for final action.

STANDARD PRICE TO BE SET FOR ON HOOF MEATS

Plans For National Payments To Be Given Public Before Week-End

PRESENT AVERAGE HOLDS

Hog Prices To Be Established In Heart Of Corn Belt And Then Adjusted

By James Olds WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—Livestock experts said today that prior to coming ceilings on live animals, the price administration will set a standard price—the present average—which packers must pay for "on the hoof" meats. The plan for standard prices, these experts said, will be released by the OPA before the end of the week.

Government officials, outlining the plan, said "it would use as the basis for hog prices what is presently paid at the center of the corn belt; let's say Iowa."

"With these set prices, for all livestock," they said, "large packing companies will not be able to bid prices so high that small packers will be forced out of business."

Adjustments Planned Officials working on the standard schedules added that prices—thus based on the center of distribution—would be adjusted upward, as the livestock is sold farther from the center of production to allow for transportation costs.

P. O. Wilson, of Chicago, speaking for a livestock producers delegation which came to Washington to oppose any ceiling program, said of the plan:

"It seems to me that it offers the best program for eliminating discrepancies which now exist between the packers."

He also said that OPA officials working on livestock ceiling plans had promised to show them to a conference of producers before they are put into effect.

Ceiling To Be Set

OPA announced that "definite plans" are being made to place ceilings over live hog prices and that similar action is contemplated in the near future for cattle prices.

Wilson said he believed that the first results to come from this announcement would be the standard price schedule.

"The OPA," he said, "is exploring two or three different angles to avoid ceilings which would roll back prices on livestock—they regard roll-back ceilings as a very difficult procedure."

"Any roll-back in prices will reduce production rather than increase it."

Wilson said that in the opinion of livestock men, ceilings that would lower present average prices "will call for allocation of hogs to packers" and will be a "difficult if not impossible program."

OPA officials and Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, he said, will explore every available possibility in an attempt to avoid this action.

DOCTOR FROWNS ON GROWING USE OF SEDATIVES

CHICAGO, Aug. 27—The indiscriminate use of sedatives in wartime was assailed today by Dr. Willard J. Stone of Pasadena, Cal., in an article in Hygeia, the health magazine.

Pointing to the increasing use of sedatives brought on by the war and the "rapid and intense life of our generation," Dr. Stone said:

"Our people will survive the war, devastating as its effects may be, but our fitness to meet the demands of the present and future efficiently will be helped if we learn to control our nerves by more rational methods than through the use of sedatives."

NEW YORK, Aug. 27—Seven months ahead of schedule, the world's mightiest battleship—the 45,000 ton U. S. S. Iowa—today slid down the ways at the Brooklyn navy yard, dedicated to a war to the finish, a war that cannot stop short of complete victory for the United Nations.

The dedication was made by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Ralph A. Bard, who said that while Japan and Germany have built stealthily and well, they have never fashioned such a weapon as the Iowa, which "will be manned with American courage and taken into battle by free American fighting men to strike new blows for the preservation of that freedom."

Bard said that the huge vessel can keep up with the swiftest task forces, fire faster and farther than any other ship afloat and added that "it may even take part in that final climatic military operation of all the war—the invasion of the continent of Europe or the island of Japan."

WAGE INCREASE TO BE USED TO BUY WAR BONDS

CHICAGO, Aug. 27—The 50,000 workers in the steel mills of the Chicago area were expected today to buy War Bonds with a large share of the $3,000,000 in wage increases awarded by the War Labor Board.

Frank Grider, sub-district director of the United Steel Workers of America, said a War Bond buying campaign now is under way. The raise, which is retroactive in February 15, represents about $60 in back pay for each worker. In the WLB ruling an increase of 5½ cents an hour was granted to workers in the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation plants.

MEN 45 TO 50 MAY ENLIST IN GROWING ARMY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—Declaring that "it indicates that we are trying to raise a big army," Secretary of War Stimson today announced that men between the ages of 45 and 50 would be enlisted in the armed forces.

Stimson announced the age requirement change at a press conference and stated that "there has been a great wastage of man power and our own high standards have kept many out, but the history of war shows that these standards are generally relaxed as the war goes on."

President Roosevelt at a recent press conference said that the United States now has an Army of about 4,000,000 men.

Stimson said that men between 45 and 50 can be used to release younger men for combat duty.

Previously, enlistment has been confined to men between the ages of 18 and 45. Under today's announcement, men between 45 and 50 who are qualified for enlistment if they were 45 before February 16, 1942, or have not reached their 50th birthday at the time of application will be accepted.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27—Adjudged in contempt of court because she was evasive when questioned before a federal grand jury, Mrs. Matilde Pollman, 53-year-old German-born, naturalized American today began serving a six months sentence.

Imposition of the sentence by district court Judge Eugene Rice was provisional, however, in that Mrs. Pollman might obtain her freedom by purging herself of the contempt charge.

Mrs. Pollman was originally questioned by investigators in connection with her activities as leader of the Frauenschaft—women's auxiliary—of the German-American bund.

AVERAGE BOYS DEFEATING JAPS

Small Group Shoots Down 19 Famed Zero Fighters In Last 48 Hours

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Aug. 27—A small group of average American boys destroyed at least 19 Japanese zero fighter planes in attacks on the enemy base at Buna, New Guinea, in the last 48 hours and at the same time struck shattering blows at claims of invincibility of the Japanese fighter aircraft.

The American successes came at a critical time for the Japanese pursuit ships are a vital need in the Japanese plan of attack. Their bombers never venture forth without fighter protection. And a shortage of planes will hamper the enemy fleet movements in this area where landing operations have been in progress.

The latest attack on Buna took place during a blinding tropical rain storm but apparently it did not hamper the accuracy of the American fighter pilots.

SENATE ACTION BRINGS FEDERAL PAY TAX NEARER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—The first federal pay-roll tax in the history of American federal income taxation appeared likely today in the wake of action by the Senate finance committee in tentatively approving the House withholding levy of five percent beginning next January 1.

While more than 30,000,000 Americans are familiar with a withholding tax for Social Security purposes, its use in the income tax scheme has been avoided in the past.

The provision in the House tax bill, approved by the Senate body, calls for an increase in the pay-roll tax to 10 percent after January 1, 1944.

The money paid in, however, would be treated as pre-payment of the federal income tax rate. The withholding tax would be applied after normal family exemptions, and at the end of the year adjustments on the income tax would be made.

The action was taken by the Senate committee after it rejected the Ruml pay-as-you-go plan of income taxation, under which 1941 taxes would be skipped. This was rejected 13 to 3. The committee also rejected a treasury modification of the Ruml plan.

SOVIET DRIVE ENTERS RZHEV; TANKS BATTLE

Fierce Engagements Fought In Streets Of Nazi-Held City As Reds Wrest Suburb's Control From Germans

MOSCOW, Aug. 27—Soviet armies today smashed into the northern suburbs of Nazi-held Rzhev, 135 miles northwest of Moscow, as a gigantic Red army offensive on the Central front steadily gained in momentum.

Desperate German resistance soon will be proved to be futile, it was stated.

The Nazis already have thrown their reserves into Rzhev in a series of all-out counter attacks, but all these have been repulsed with bloody enemy casualties.

Fierce engagements were fought in the streets and from house to house as the Soviets wrested control of the northern suburbs from the Germans.

The Nazis converted every building into a fortress, arming them with machine-guns and Tommy guns in an effort to stem the Russian tide.

All Moscow was jubilant as it read news reports of the successes scored by its armies in the West and learned that Red army resistance was stiffening before menaced Stalingrad.

Latest reports on the Soviet offensive said the Russians had retaken 16 more villages on the Central and Kalinin (northwest) fronts, bringing the total of towns recaptured in two weeks to 626.

Battles were said to be extremely bitter in the Zubtsov area, 10 miles East of Rzhev, and also in the region between Rzhev and Sichevka.

Some Soviet units bypassed Rzhev, now under heavy shelling by Soviet long-range guns.

The Red troops were reported attacking 4,000 Germans discovered in the vicinity of Prokhladnaya, in the mid-Caucasus 80 miles northwest of the Grozny oil fields, stubborn battles were being fought for possession of a river crossing. Two German pontoon bridges were said to have been destroyed.

Fighting also was under way at Mozdok, only 60 miles from Grozny.

On the westernmost Caucasus front heavy fighting raged South of Krasnodar where the Germans were said to have tried to occupy important positions in vain. Defense forces repelled the Nazis with heavy losses.

May Turn Tables The offensive by the Russians West of Moscow brought with it hope that the tables may soon be turned on the German invaders.

It was disclosed previously in a special communique that Soviet armies had swept forward 25 to 30 miles on the Kalinin front 105 miles Northwest of the Russian capital.

(The military expert of Reuters' (British) news agency meanwhile stated that Premier Stalin has 5,000,000 fully trained and equipped reserves ready for a big offensive. Whether Gen. Gregori Zhukov's attack on the Central front and Northwest of Moscow represents the start of a decisive offensive or is merely a diversionary drive will soon be clear, the military writer said.)

The situation before Stalingrad was more encouraging as the result of Russian counter-attacks on several sectors.

HOSPITAL TAX TO BE PUT UP TO CITY VOTERS

Circleville voters will be asked to support a special tax levy at the November election, proceeds of which will go to operation of Berger hospital. Council has instructed Solicitor Joe W. Adkins to have legislation prepared for consideration at the meeting next Wednesday evening.

Council will ask for three-fourths of a mill for each of the next two years. The amount collected from three-fourths of a mill is about $6,000 annually.

The money will be used to help pay deficiencies which occur each year, the hospital being between $4,000 and $5,000 in the "red" each year for which appropriation must be made.

Repairs, maintenance and other items can be paid for out of the levy.

So far as city officials know the three-fourths mill will be the only special issue on the ballot this Fall.

All Moscow was jubilant as it read news reports of the successes scored by its armies in the West and learned that Red army resistance was stiffening before menaced Stalingrad.

Latest reports on the Soviet offensive said the Russians had retaken 16 more villages on the Central and Kalinin (northwest) fronts, bringing the total of towns recaptured in two weeks to 626.

Battles were said to be extremely bitter in the Zubtsov area, 10 miles East of Rzhev, and also in the region between Rzhev and Sichevka.

Some Soviet units bypassed Rzhev, now under heavy shelling by Soviet long-range guns.

The Red troops were reported attacking 4,000 Germans discovered in the vicinity of Prokhladnaya, in the mid-Caucasus 80 miles northwest of the Grozny oil fields, stubborn battles were being fought for possession of a river crossing. Two German pontoon bridges were said to have been destroyed.

Fighting also was under way at Mzodok, only 60 miles from Grozny.

On the westernmost Caucasus front heavy fighting raged South of Krasnodar where the Germans were said to have tried to occupy important positions in vain. Defense forces repelled the Nazis with heavy losses.

May Turn Tables
The offensive by the Russians West of Moscow brought with it hope that the tables may soon be turned on the German invaders.

It was disclosed previously in a special communique that Soviet armies had swept forward 25 to 30 miles on the Kalinin front 105 miles Northwest of the Russian capital.

(The military expert of Reuters' (British) news agency meanwhile stated that Premier Stalin has 5,000,000 fully trained and equipped reserves ready for a big offensive. Whether Gen. Gregori Zhukov's attack on the Central front and Northwest of Moscow represents the start of a decisive offensive or is merely a diversionary drive will soon be clear, the military writer said.)

The situation before Stalingrad was more encouraging as the result of Russian counter-attacks on several sectors.

HOSPITAL TAX TO BE PUT UP TO CITY VOTERS

Circleville voters will be asked to support a special tax levy at the November election, proceeds of which will go to operation of Berger hospital.

Council has instructed Solicitor Joe W. Adkins to have legislation prepared for consideration at the meeting next Wednesday evening.

Council will ask for three-fourths of a mill for each of the next two years. The amount collected from three-fourths of a mill is about $6,000 annually.

The money will be used to help pay deficiencies which occur each year, the hospital being between $4,000 and $5,000 in the "red" each year for which appropriation must be made.

Repairs, maintenance and other items can be paid for out of the levy.

So far as city officials know the three-fourths mill will be the only special issue on the ballot this Fall.

PAPER DRESS PATTERNS CUT TO WAR ORDER

Folds, Full Skirts Banned
In Stores—Home Making
Now Forbidden

SOME LEEWAY ALLOWED

Big, Plump, Small And Thin
Women All Must Now
Pull In Their Seams

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—Not only are folds and full skirts gone from department store dresses by war necessity, but WPB orders are out today to even stop them from being made at home.

Paper patterns are being cut down "to give the same length, sweep and sleeve circumference as ready-made garments," the WPB stated, as the last source of graceful folds and flattering drapes was cut off from the feminine world.

"A five percent leeway was allowed so that existing patterns which only slightly exceeded maximum measurements may still be used after the effective date of September 1," the WPB said.

Now there is no way around the war styles. Big, small, plump, thin, or willowly the American girl pulls in her seams, cuts off her hems, and doesn't mind if box skirts are not her style, because "these are orders."

The home dressmaker may still satisfy her love for generous accessories. The pattern order did not call for restrictions on the number and size of pockets or width of belts.

Generously the board left this one avenue of "fluffy duff" expression.

After February 1, 1943, no manufacturer or retailer may sell or deliver any pattern that exceeds the maximum measurements that the WPB after much deliberation and research decided on in April, for ready-made dress, lingerie and lounging wear.

"The purpose of the lag between the two effective dates is to enable manufacturers and retailers to dispose of existing stocks," the WPB said, not to mention allowing the war-working seamstress, time to sew a last loving flare into a Winter gown before the war clamps down for the duration on flowing sleeves, and noisy, swishing skirts.

This is the guillotine that will make the final cut between the feminine world at peace in lace and abundance, and a feminine world at war in shirts, and slacks.

JERRY WEES TO ENTER ARMY'S AVIATION CORPS

A. L. (Jerry) Wees, manager of the Circleville store of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company for the last 16 months, will leave about September 10 to enter the Army Air Corps for ground work assignment. Wees will enroll at Fort Hayes in the Air Corps unassigned. He has had considerable mechanical experience.

His company is granting him a leave of absence for the duration. No successor has been named as yet as manager of the local store.

Mrs. Wees came to Circleville from Chillicothe where he had been employed by Firestone.

Mrs. Wees plans to return to the home of her parents in Uhrichsville while her husband is in service.

HOUSEHOLD SUGAR USERS WARNED ON COUPON USE

Household sugar users were given warning Thursday that Ration Stamp No. 8 which is now valid, is good for five pounds of sugar, but that it does not change the basic ration of one-half pound a week per person.

The five pounds which may be purchased with the stamp must last through the 10-week period expiring October 31.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits, may also cause nagging backache, rheumatism, pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons and waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Divorces Jessel

Lois Andrews, above, who married Comedian George Jessel when she was 16, today is a free woman, having won a 15-minute divorce in Hollywood. Lois, who became a mother last year, testified that the 44-year-old comedian was extremely jealous, smashed too many mirrors, didn't believe in Santa Claus, and, besides, he was too old for her.

EVEN PATIENTS IN HOSPITAL TO PAY SALES TAX

Berger hospital is starting into the sales tax business.

Under orders of the State Department of Taxation tax must be collected on all meals served to patients in the institution, Solicitor Joe W. Adkins informed council Wednesday evening.

The tax will be added to statements for each patient beginning September 1. Under the ruling the hospital must buy a vendor's license which costs $1.

The department has agreed to waive any claims on the hospital for tax prior to September 1, its decision holding that Berger hospital should have been collecting tax ever since the 3 percent sales tax law on foods served has been on the statute books.

No tax will be collected from persons listed as charity or industrial commission patients.

The same procedure is being instituted in Chillicothe and Lancaster hospitals.

TWO FILE CLAIM FOR LOSS DUE TO PLANT WATER

Council heard Ray Anderson and Kenneth Baldwin, Town street residents, ask damages Wednesday evening as a result of their cellars being flooded by water from the Winorr canning plant.

Both reported water and equipment in their homes damaged and destroyed by the water which reached a depth of several feet during the last week end.

The claims were presented to the committee on laws and claims for immediate action.

Service Director Clarence Helvering said that the flow of water from the Winorr plant is too heavy for the city sanitary sewer, and that a new sewer must be laid if danger to other homes is to be averted.

Winorr dug a new 10-inch well prior to the opening of the present canning season and water from this in addition to two other wells which have been in operation makes the flow too much for the sanitary sewer.

Helvering said the water is being diverted at the present time through the Smith ditch.

FINED BY MAYOR

AUTOS NEEDED TO MOVE TROOPS TO BIG PICNIC

Appeal went out Thursday to Circleville and Pickaway county residents to cooperate with the Civilian Defense Recreation committee in its picnic outing scheduled Sunday for entertainment of glider pilots.

Additional volunteers are needed to transport the men from the Lockbourne base to Gold Cliff Sunday morning and back again in the afternoon after the outing has been concluded. More automobiles are needed. Persons wishing to drive to Lockbourne should call Mrs. Larry Atthey, phone No. 466.

Cars will gather at the courthouse Sunday at 9 a. m. More pledges of food are needed, too, to make the day a complete one. About 100 glider pilots can be served, the amount of pledges made so far indicate, but Lockbourne officials say that between 150 and 200 trainees will be ready to participate in the day's program.

Families are urged to attend the picnic and each attending is asked to take along enough food to feed at least one, and as many more soldiers as it can conveniently prepare for. Persons who have not yet done so are asked to telephone Mrs. M. M. Bowman, phone 1852; Mrs. Harry Heffner, phone 792; Mrs. Tom Renick, phone 1440, or Miss Rose Good, phone 38.

A recreation program is being planned at the park with all facilities of the popular resort being turned over to the soldiers by the Gold Cliff management. There will be no charge for swimming pool, skating or dancing for the soldiers.

Response to appeals for automobiles and food will determine how successful the event will be.

Dr. Edward A. Secoy, 67, a prominent Darbyville physician for 25 years, died Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. at his home in the Muhlenberg township village. Dr. Secoy had suffered from heart disease and had been in failing health for several months.

A native of Pleasant Hill, O., he removed to Darbyville from Athens county. He operated a health resort for about six years, a fire a few years ago wiping out many of the cottages. The sanitarium had not been in operation in the last few years.

He had served as mayor of Darbyville for several terms and was a member of the Pickaway county health board advisory council, serving once as its chairman.

Dr. Secoy was born August 22, 1875.

Survivors include his widow, Ida Jordan Secoy, whom he married September 7, 1895; a daughter, Beatrice, wife of O. E. Hill of Columbus, and two brothers, Rufus of Point Marion, Pa., and Charles of West Milton, O.

Funeral will be Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the residence, the Rev. E. W. Ewing of Mount Sterling officiating. Burial will be in Darbyville cemetery by C. E. Hill, Williamsport.

Darby staff completed its faculty Wednesday evening by hiring Miss Thelma Penrod of Columbus as teacher of English, history and Latin. She is a Capital university graduate.

With her employment, only four vacancies remain in the county system. School starts September 8 in the county.

Private Phillip Thomas, son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Thomas of near East Ringgold, has been given a certified medical discharge from the Army. Young Thomas went from Camp Wheeler, Ga., to Ireland and was returned from there to Fort Dix, N. J., for hospitalization. He is expected home in a few days.

Gordon was reduced to $200. Rutter being held on an assault and battery charge; Russell Knece, Circleville, who paid $50 and costs for drunken driving after the other $50 of his fine was suspended by Squire B. T. Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or steady passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatism, pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

COUNCIL GRANTS WAGE BOOST TO SAFETY GROUPS

Increases Will Cost City Total Of $2,160 For Twelve Month Period

HOIST DEEMED NECESSARY

Department Chiefs Get $135, Firemen $115, Police $125 Per Month

Twelve policemen and firemen on the Circleville payroll will start to receive monthly pay increases amounting to $15 for each man beginning September 1.

Council passed necessary legislation under suspension of rules at its meeting Wednesday evening, all members voting favorably on the ordinance.

The issue was placed before council in ordinance form at its meeting last week, but sufficient councilmen were not present to pass the measure immediately.

Since Wednesday's meeting was an adjourned session it was not necessary to read the ordinance again, a call for a vote being the only required procedure.

The wage boost will cost the city $2,160 a year.

Under the ordinance the chief of each department will be boosted from $120 to $135 monthly; each fireman will receive $115 and each policeman will be paid $125.

Request for salary increase was made several months ago by members of the two departments who declared that with living costs going higher they are having difficulty living on the present wage scale.

Possibility that several members of the two departments would accept offered employment elsewhere was also cited.

The ordinance as voted by council declared that "due to increasing cost of living" members of the two departments are "not being paid a living wage."

Councilmen were unanimously back of the measure stating they were acting in "best interests of the city."

Provision for the salary boosts is made in the 1943 city budget which was adopted by council on recommendation of the finance

CALVES, SHEEP, HOGS CONTINUE AT HIGH LEVEL

High prices prevailed again for calves, pigs and sheep at the Pickaway Livestock Cooperative's weekly auction Wednesday. However, the market was lacking in choice cattle, only steers and heifers offered being in the medium to good class which brought from $11.50 to $14.

Only 62 head of calves were offered, the supply being very short in the county, the top price being $16.90, comparable with last week's high figure.

Sheep and lambs brought as high as $15.95 in the fair to choice division, while pigs of the 65 to 140 pound class brought up to $16.75.

WOODEN ARMY TRUCKS

How vitally the nation needs steel is illustrated by a move the Army has been quietly preparing. Beginning in about a week, all bodies for army trucks will be made out of wood instead of steel.

From September 1 to January 1, 1943, the Army will thus save 1,337,000 tons of steel—enough to make 125,000,000 shells for 75mm. field artillery.

In addition, all Army cots from now on will be made of wood, thus diverting 78,100 tons of steel to other purposes.

In contrast here are some things which the Navy and the Maritime Commission might be doing—but aren't:

First, the Navy requires practically all steel and other critical materials to be on hand before it begins building a warship. A battleship can't be finished for at least two, perhaps three years.

But during the interim, essential materials stand waiting to be used when they might go into other more immediate uses.

Meanwhile the Maritime Commission is building merchant ships of the finest type, ships which will be good—if not sunk—30 years from now. However, at the present rate of sinking, they are more likely to last a few months to a year, rather than 30 years.

The trouble with thorough-going Admiral Land is that he is building up a merchant marine for the future, whereas we need to win the war TODAY. Therefore, some naval architects figure that by scaling down the size of steel plate, and other steel used in the ships, nothing is lost in the strength of the ship, and it will be just as good 20 years from now.

For instance, by scaling down the scantlings 20 percent, it would be possible to save a million tons of steel on the present Liberty ship program. This, in turn, would build 4,000 vitally needed subchasers.

NOTE:—Even though the Higgins Shipbuilding Company had not finished building its shipyards, the Maritime Commission had sent it great quantities of anchors, anchor chains, and even porcelain toilet bowls to remain stacked up in piles waiting till the ships were completed.

SON-IN-LAW OF CITY WOMAN ON EXCHANGE SHIP

Mrs. C. F. Abernethy, 475 North Court street, is awaiting word from the Rev. Charles Reeder of Wooster, her son-in-law, who was on the diplomatic exchange ship, Gripsholm, which arrived Tuesday at Jersey City, N. J., after an ocean voyage.

The Rev. Mr. Reeder, a missionary in China for many years, is expecting to attend a meeting of missionaries Thursday in New York. After this meeting he will probably come to Ohio, going first to his home in Wooster, O., and then to Circleville to visit Mrs. Abernethy.

The Gripsholm brought 1,451 Americans repatriated from Japan.

There was no fanfare connected with the arrival, only officials being permitted at the pier. A thorough examination by agents of state and justice departments, Army and Navy intelligence services and customs was planned. Uncle Sam is guarding against entry of any spies or other undesirables.

Harry Sohn, Pickaway township, reported Wednesday that Horace Smith of Xenia, whom he employed as a soda fountain boy when he operated a drugstore in Xenia, was also on the Gripsholm. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Smith, was employed in the U. S. consulate in Shanghai when war broke out.

From September 1 to January 1, 1943, the Army will thus save 1,337,000 tons of steel—enough to make 125,000,000 shells for 75mm. field artillery.

In addition, all Army cots from now on will be made of wood, thus diverting 78,100 tons of steel to other purposes.

In contrast here are some things which the Navy and the Maritime Commission might be doing—but aren't:

First, the Navy requires practically all steel and other critical materials to be on hand before it begins building a warship. A battleship can't be finished for at least two, perhaps three years. But during the interim, essential materials stand waiting to be used when they might go into other more immediate uses.

Meanwhile the Maritime Commission is building merchant ships of the finest type, ships which will be good—if not sunk—30 years from now. However, at the present rate of sinking, they are more likely to last a few months to a year, rather than 30 years.

The trouble with thorough-going Admiral Land is that he is building up a merchant marine for the future, whereas we need to win the war TODAY. Therefore, some naval architects figure that by scaling down the size of steel plate, and other steel used in the ships, nothing is lost in the strength of the ship, and it will be just as good 20 years from now.

For instance, by scaling down the scantlings 20 percent, it would be possible to save a million tons of steel on the present Liberty ship program. This, in turn, would build 4,000 vitally needed subchasers.

NOTE:—Even though the Higgins Shipbuilding Company had not finished building its shipyards, the Maritime Commission had sent it great quantities of anchors, anchor chains, and even porcelain toilet bowls to remain stacked up in piles waiting till the ships were completed.

Before the American Labor Party finally selected its candidate for the governorship of New York, it offered the nomination to Mayor LaGuardia, who, after some hesitation, declined. . . . The Labor Party also offered the nomination to Wendell Willkie, who said he would accept if he had the official backing of the White House. The White House made no reply and Willkie went ahead with plans for his trip to Russia. . . . Roosevelt henchmen at the Brooklyn convention complained that it was impossible to get to the President by telephone. He gave his orders regarding Mead, and after that was inaccessible.

SON-IN-LAW OF CITY WOMAN ON EXCHANGE SHIP

Mrs. C. F. Abernethy, 475 North Court street, is awaiting word from the Rev. Charles Reeder of Wooster, her son-in-law, who was on the diplomatic exchange ship, Gripsholm, which arrived Tuesday at Jersey City, N. J., after an ocean voyage.

The Rev. Mr. Reeder, a missionary in China for many years, is expecting to attend a meeting of missionaries Thursday in New York. After this meeting he will probably come to Ohio, going first to his home in Wooster, O., and then to Circleville to visit Mrs. Abernethy.

The Gripsholm brought 1,451 Americans repatriated from Japan.

There was no fanfare connected with the arrival, only officials being permitted at the pier. A thorough examination by agents of state and justice departments, Army and Navy intelligence services and customs was planned. Uncle Sam is guarding against entry of any spies or other undesirables.

Harry Sohn, Pickaway township, reported Wednesday that Horace Smith of Xenia, whom he employed as a soda fountain boy when he operated a drugstore in Xenia, was also on the Gripsholm. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Smith, was employed in the U. S. consulate in Shanghai when war broke out.

NIPS LAND MEN AT MILNE BAY; FIGHT RAGES ON

Solomons District Quiet, Navy Reporting Marines Holding All Points

Enemy forces came ashore at Milne Bay in the face of strong allied air opposition, Gen. MacArthur's communique said.

Heavy assaults were continued against other Jap bases in island territories North of Australia.

Probably the most profitable was a new surprise attack on Buna, on the northeast coast of Papua, which resulted in destruction of six out of 10 Japanese zero fighter planes caught when attempting to take off and damage to two others.

Weather Adverse

The Buna raid was made despite bad weather, the communique said. Fires were started on the makeshift Jap airfield where 13 Jap planes were destroyed in two allied raids Tuesday.

Medium allied bombers attacked Japanese installations at Dilli on the north coast of Timor Island. Fires broke out following the assault.

A few Japanese planes today again bombed Broome, on Australia's west coast 700 miles southwest of Port Darwin, but caused no damage and inflicted no casualties.

WAR RISK RATE REDUCED FOR CARGO SHIPS

NEW YORK, Aug. 27—For the first time since Hitler launched his ruthless submarine campaign against Atlantic shipping, cargo war-risk rates today were reduced by the American Marine Insurance underwriters.

The drop, amounting to five points, was seen as a definite indication that the "rattlesnakes of the sea" are slowly but surely being overcome by improved convoy systems.

Most vitally affected by the reduction is trade between this country and South America. Heretofore, shipments between these points were insurable only at a rate of 25 percent or payment of a premium of $25 for each $100 of value. The premium reduction to 20 percent is expected greatly to increase trade especially between this country, Argentina and Brazil.

Other Atlantic trade routes also get a 5 percent reduction.

JAP THRUST MAY BE SIGN SOLOMON DISTRICT LOST

SYDNEY, Aug. 27—The new Japanese thrust into the Milne Bay area of New Guinea, observers here said today, indicates that Tokyo feels the Solomons battle is going against them.

The enemy move into a new position on the southeastern tip of New Guinea is an effort to obtain new bases from which to strike at allied operational bases, it was said.

Reports of bitter patrol clashes in the New Guinea jungle and the rising tempo of the air war were seen as heralding a climax in the New Guinea fighting.

DETROIT, Aug. 27—Indicted by a federal grand jury in New York, Fritz Karl Streuber, leader of the Detroit unit of the German-American Bund, was under arrest in Detroit today. AVERAGE BOYS DEFEATING JAPS

They dove onto the field and caught the Japanese with short warning. Some were still running to their planes as the Americans swept over the airfield at 50 feet and blasted the enemy ships.

One was sent crashing in flames before it had cleared the tree tops, and Brown caught one with a broadside as it came out of a barrel roll.

Roberts chased a Jap to sea and shot it down in flames. Then Roberts teamed up with Helveston and they got another between them. Helveston went under a zero that was climbing and poured a blast into its belly, and it went down in a trail of smoke.

Roberts set a large fuel dump afire and Abel thinks he damaged at least one zero during a swirling dogfight.

The certain score was: Brown, 2; Roberts, 2; Rogers, 1-2; Helveston 1½. This was considered a notable record for it was the first time Brown and Helveston had been in combat.

LABOR CHIEFS FAVOR WLB AS CZAR ON WAGES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—CIO President Philip Murray and AFL Chief William Green today threw organized labor's support behind proposals to let the War Labor board remain the final authority on wage control under an anti-inflation policy to be announced Labor day by President Roosevelt. Fighting against reported proposals for the appointment of a supreme wage "czar" as a curb to inflation, Murray said that he and Green believe that the WLB should have the final vote under any anti-inflation policy.

The CIO chieftain, who, with Green, conferred at the White House yesterday, disclosed that they had discussed in general with President Roosevelt measures being studied by presidential advisers in drawing up the anti-inflation program.

U. S. EQUIPMENT SEEN AS BETTER THAN AXIS BEST

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 — War equipment produced in American factories was hailed today as equal or superior to that of the axis.

In an address before the annual convention of Phi Theta Delta fraternity, Brig. Gen. Donald Armstrong, chief of the newly organized automotive center in Detroit, declared the M-3 tanks, described in some publications as inferior to German tanks, are in fact "superior to anything the Germans ever had."

Gen. Armstrong said that American tank troops have "tools that are superior to those of the enemy, not only in fire power but in ability to resist projectiles and in speed."

NIPS LAND MEN AT MILNE BAY; FIGHT RAGES ON

United Nations advance base at Port Moresby and places the Japs within 400 miles of the Australian mainland. Japanese ability to hold the positions would pose an increased threat to the commonwealth.

Enemy forces came ashore at Milne Bay in the face of strong allied air opposition. Gen. MacArthur's communique said.

Heavy assaults were continued against other Jap bases in island territories North of Australia. Probably the most profitable was a new surprise attack on Buna, on the northeast coast of Papua, which resulted in destruction of six out of 10 Japanese zero fighter planes caught when attempting to take off and damage to two others.

Weather Adverse
The Buna raid was made despite bad weather, the communique said. Fires were started on the makeshift Jap airfield where 13 Jap planes were destroyed in two allied raids Tuesday.

Medium allied bombers attacked Japanese installations at Dili on the north coast of Timor island. Fires broke out following the assault.

A few Japanese planes today again bombed Broome, on Australia's west coast 700 miles southwest of Port Darwin, but caused no damage and inflicted no casualties.

WAR RISK RATE REDUCED FOR CARGO SHIPS

NEW YORK, Aug. 27—For the first time since Hitler launched his ruthless submarine campaign against Atlantic shipping, cargo war-risk rates today were reduced by the American Marine Insurance underwriters.

The drop, amounting to five points, was seen as a definite indication that the "rattlesnakes of the sea" are slowly but surely being overcome by improved convoy systems.

Most vitally affected by the reduction is trade between this country and South America. Heretofore, shipments between these points were insurable only at a rate of 25 percent or payment of a premium of $25 for each $100 of value. The premium reduction to 20 percent is expected greatly to increase trade especially between this country, Argentina and Brazil.

Other Atlantic trade routes also get a 5 percent reduction.

JAP THRUST MAY BE SIGN SOLOMON DISTRICT LOST

SYDNEY, Aug. 27—The new Japanese thrust into the Milne Bay area of New Guinea, observers here said today, indicates that Tokyo feels the Solomons battle is going against them.

The enemy move into a new position on the southeastern tip of New Guinea is an effort to obtain new bases from which to strike at allied operational bases, it was said.

Reports of bitter patrol clashes in the New Guinea jungle and the rising tempo of the air war were seen as heralding a climax in the New Guinea fighting.

Denver, Lieut. Leon Mathers of Mathersville, Miss., and Lieut. Jim Griffin of Los Angeles.

They dove onto the field and caught the Japanese with short warning. Some were still running to their planes as the Americans swept over the airfield at 50 feet and blasted the enemy ships. One was sent crashing in flames before it had cleared the tree tops, and Brown caught one with a broadside as it came out of a barrel roll.

Roberts chased a Jap to sea and shot it down in flames. Then Roberts teamed up with Helveston and they got another between them. Helveston went under a zero that was climbing and poured a blast into its belly, and it went down in a trail of smoke.

Roberts set a large fuel dump afire and Abel thinks he damaged at least one zero during a swirling dogfight.

The certain score was: Brown, 2; Roberts, 2; Rogers, 1-2; Helveston 1 1/2. This was considered a notable record for it was the first time Brown and Helveston have been in combat.

"We've got to eliminate the confusion," Reynolds said. "Nobody knows what to expect—whether they are going to be drafted or not."

LABOR CHIEFS FAVOR WLB AS CZAR ON WAGES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—CIO President Philip Murray and AFL Chief William Green today threw organized labor's support behind proposals to let the War Labor board remain the final authority on wage control under an anti-inflation policy to be announced Labor day by President Roosevelt. Fighting against reported proposals for the appointment of a supreme wage "czar" as a curb to inflation, Murray said that he and Green believe that the WLB should have the final vote under any anti-inflation policy.

The CIO chieftain, who, with Green, conferred at the White House yesterday, disclosed that they had discussed in general with President Roosevelt measures being studied by presidential advisers in drawing up the anti-inflation program.

U. S. EQUIPMENT SEEN AS BETTER THAN AXIS BEST

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 — War equipment produced in American factories was hailed today as equal or superior to that of the axis.

In an address before the annual convention of Phi Theta Delta fraternity, Brig. Gen. Donald Armstrong, chief of the newly organized automotive center in Detroit, declared the M-3 tanks, described in some publications as inferior to German tanks, are in fact "superior to anything the Germans ever had."

Gen. Armstrong said that American tank troops have "tools that are superior to those of the enemy, not only in fire power but in ability to resist projectiles and in speed."

LOYALTY
THE CONVICTION of a conspicuous group of American citizens on charges of espionage for the benefit of Nazi Germany must be regarded by good Americans as a wholesome and reassuring job. There seems to be less of such disloyal activity now than there was in the last war. Citizens of recent adoption, on the whole, seem to understand the issues involved, and their own duties, more clearly. The fires now raging in the world are more illuminating to those capable of understanding the issues involved. Yet there are still some who remain loyal to foreign allegiances which they profess to have abandoned.

To such people, of whatever origin, these convictions are a timely warning. It cannot be expected that all citizens of recent adoption can get alien loyalties entirely out of their hearts. But it is reasonably expected that they will neither preach nor practice principles contrary to those of the United States Constitution, and especially that they will not seek to interfere with the war operations of the United States government.

To all citizens or residents of doubtful allegiance, the test comes now as of old: "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve."

DRIVERS
EVERYONE has always had notions, mostly unfavorable, about the other fellow's driving. In particular, when city dwellers get out into the country, they are not impressed by the driving they see there. To hear them tell it, you would suppose that the farmer always drives in the middle of the road at a snail's pace, and no honking will persuade him to get out of the way.

Country residents have their own story. These boys from the city, according to their account, come sweeping around curves at a mile a minute; are not satisfied with half the road, but want three-fourths or more; kill all the chickens within range, and are a pest generally.

In some cases both are right; in others, not. But the way things are, it looks as if both are going to sit at home for some time, and the age-old argument must await a future time for settlement.

NOT ENOUGH YET
AMERICANS are still not doing enough. For the first half of August, according to Treasury department figures, this country bought $366,000,000 in war bonds. The quota for the month is $815,000,000. By any reckoning, the popular subscriptions are still somewhat under the quota.

Before we are through, this war will demand every spare penny and every last ounce of effort. Then, and only then will it be won.

WORLD AT A GLANCE
—By— Charles F. Stewart

WASHINGTON—Will post-war aviation re-vitalize the world? While the war lasts it will be purely military purposes, destructively, it'll fight independently of other arms, it'll give direction to the others and it'll transport groundling forces and keep them supplied with what they need to keep them in action. There won't be anything civilizing about it, however, but emphatically contravertive.

But after the strife is over? Gosh, how the aviation art will have been developed, to meet today's bloodthirsty requirements! And won't this development be immediately adaptable to peace-time's convenience!

It takes no expert to recognize that the correct answer is in the affirmative.

There are experts, nevertheless, who say the average individual doesn't realize how tremendous the transformation will be or how fast it will manifest itself. It will be, they assert, about 1,000 times as great a change as the one following the railroad's advent and so sudden that it will be on top of the human race overnight almost.

A World Remade
Railroads, even after their invention, took a lot of building. Stage coaches continued in operation for years after the choo-choo lines were limited in operation. The change-over was rather gradual.

Then again, a railroad train, starting, say, from New York City, can't travel farther than, for example, San Francisco. Indeed, it can't span that terrestrial distance without various changes of cars intermediate.

A water vessel can't keep going indefinitely, either. When it hits land it's got to quit and transfer passengers and freight to rail facilities.

A plane, though, can swish right ahead from New York to the Aleutian islands, from the Aleutians to Tokyo and back again.

That's true now! How much truer it will be in the days of post-war!

Now, there are a lot of parts of the world which, though productive and well worth cultivation, are inaccessible by a rail or steamship basis.

Inaccessible Areas
Central Africa is one of them. Another is mid-South America, known as the Grand Chaco, meaning the "wilderness." They are both teeming with natural wealth and both, up to now, have been regions of great natural wealth, say in the so-called Arctic and Antarctic wastes. If so, the airplane should find and open them to us.

These are the fields that President John H. Jettett of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce urges us to concentrate on.

The hope is, then, that we're going to have an aviation world hereafter—not merely as a military proposition, but everlastingly, as something we may as well get used to, an air world in transport, communication and all that sort of thing.

That's how our mail will be carried, that's how our goods will be delivered. We'd better get used to it.

Henry Ford, among others, takes this angle.

And the "new" parts of the world?

Into those dark places the light of civilization will be down on the ever-expanding wings of mankind.

PERKINS' THREAT
WASHINGTON—Here is an inside story on how different U. S. officials prosecute the war. The other day, the Army needed 10,000 bales of Egyptian long staple cotton and needed it quickly. Getting that much cotton out of Egypt at this time meant getting it practically out from under Rommel's nose. It might get sunk, it might never leave Egypt.

However, the War Department demanded it, and Milo Perkins, head of the Bureau of Economic Warfare, arranged for its immediate purchase. He also wrote a directive, under his agreement with Jesse Jones, for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to put up the money.

Will Clayton, Jesse's right arm in the RFC, was away. But when he came back, he stormed over to see Milo Perkins.

"I'm not going to do it," Clayton told Perkins flatly.

"Yes, you are going to do it," Perkins shot back.

"It's too risky," Clayton replied, "you can buy that cotton with Agriculture Department funds."

"Now look, Mr. Clayton," said Milo, "under the President's order I have the power to set up a loan agency to buy things of this kind. So far I haven't set up such an agency, but have operated through you. However, if you're not going to cooperate, I'll set one up."

"And where will you get the money?" asked Clayton.

"I'll get it from you. You forget, Mr. Clayton, that it isn't your money. It's the taxpayer's money and you are only the custodian. The War Department wants this cotton and they're going to get it."

Finally Clayton reluctantly agreed.

Note: — Will Clayton is one of the most charming and likeable men in Washington. Before coming into the Government he was a partner in Anderson and Clayton, world's biggest cotton buyers. A Democrat, he opposed Roosevelt on most things, was a heavy contributor to the Liberty League. With the war, however, he forgot partisanship. But he has never forgotten the bookkeeping mentality of a banker. Despite all the terrible urgencies of war, he seems always to have in the back of his mind the idea of presenting a profitable balance sheet of loans made by the RFC.

BLONDE HAIR FOR TOKYO
Colleagues of New Hampshire's Senator Styles Bridges say that when it comes to handling women constituents, he is too honest. The other day he received from a New Hampshire lady several beautiful locks of blonde hair. When he opened the box there was so much hair in it that at first Senator Bridges almost thought it was a woman's head.

With it was a letter saying that the owner had heard that blonde hair was being used in bombsights and she was contributing her hair to help bomb Tokyo.

Delighted to help the cause, Senator Bridges, a leading member of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, took the hair to the War Department. But he was rebuffed. The Army does use blonde hair in bombsights, he was told, but one lock of (Continued on Page Three)

Football Injuries in High School Are Highest of All

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
IN MY collection of injuries due to playing football in the season of 1941, which I tabulate below, I omit such minor things as bloody nose, black and blue eyes, sprains, back wrenches, cuts, bruises, being knocked unconscious, charley horse, etc. To get into this list you have to break a bone or rupture a spleen, or be paralyzed, or something really noteworthy.

In all I have a total of 3,393 injuries of this kind, of which 1,067 occurred in college players, 2,426 in high school players, 259 on sandlots, 25 in grade school, and 114 miscellaneous.

Note once more the preponderance of high school injuries which supports my contention that boys of high school age are not physically matured enough to stand the game, at least until they are seniors.

List of Injuries
To tick off some items: ankle fractures—college 136, high school 326; brain injury—only in high school, 4 (concussions not counted); eye injuries (serious)—college 15, high school 18; ruptured kidneys—college 3, high school 11; fractured leg—college 169, high school 398; dislocated knee—college 215, high school 329; fractured pelvis—college 1, high school 4; abdominal rupture—high school 8; spine injury (serious)—college 2, high school 30.

A few unusual ones were: ruptured spleen (had to be removed), 1 crushed larynx when a player stepped on his friend's neck, 1 tetanus, 1 lung collapse and 26 lime burns.

SYNOPSIS
BARBARA WISTERS, former actress, finds herself a widow at 27, when her husband dies. Her only friend in the small town of South Wintridge, where she lives, is Dr. TONY BRADSHAW, a young physician. Owner of the town's only big business is TOM KILCRAN, whose daughter, PAMELA, and wife, CLAIRE, are haughty, cold and selfish.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN
THE BUTLER placed a decanter and small glasses before Kilcran and brought a tray with a cigar box and a flame in a silver bowl to Tony.

Kilcran held the decanter up to the light to see the glowing heart of ruby before pouring it. "Beautiful color!" he said.

Tony sipped his wine. "Beautiful bouquet!" he pronounced, having no idea whether it was or not, but anxious to do the man-of-the-world thing as a measure of impressing his host.

"Wonderful! This is the last of it," Kilcran answered sadly. "It comes from Spain. My wife and I visited there the year before the last war. Ever been to Spain?"

They talked of Spain and the war, of England and France and Japan, and labor and the government and foreign policy until their cigars were short and Kilcran rose, putting an end to Tony's hopes that there was to be talk of the hospital.

Claire and Pamela were finishing their coffee in the drawing room when the men joined them. Claire put down her cup and went directly to the card table that had been set up before the hearth.

The butler came in and picked up the coffee tray. Kilcran said something to him about bringing things for highballs.

The clock in the great hall chimed ten notes and Tony, to his surprise, felt an unaccustomed mood of impatience pervade him; he felt an urgent desire to be out and away from the handsome room. The mingled scent of expensive tobacco, the perfume of the women and the aroma of cut flowers and burning wood made him feel stifled and for a most unreasonable reason, resentful.

Ten o'clock, he thought. The consciousness of precious time passing on padded hours and his own marking of it because he couldn't make use of golden opportunity made him feel angry.

"Shall we cut for partners," Claire said.

Tony found himself making a fan of the cards, flipping the last one with a gesture that betrayed his irritation.

Because she was watching him with extraordinary interest, Pamela saw the gesture and misread its motive. She thought, "He doesn't really want to play. He's afraid our stakes are more than he can afford."

She said, "We're partners, Tony. We'll get a good game from the family, but poor stakes. We never play for more than a tenth."

Her mother gave her a sudden, sharp look of surprise, but said nothing.

They took their places and Pamela dealt the cards with one expert hand. Kilcran played a slow, sure game in a desultory way, but his wife and daughter played like professionals. Although Tony had an instinctive card sense, he never had cared much for the game, but found this one stimulating. They played the cards swiftly and there was no conversation save for the murmurs of bidding or an exclamation of approval for a good play. There was no voicing of "Sorry, partner," for the game was tight, well and hard played with a singular absence of errors.

After the second rubber, Tony found himself involuntarily sitting back in his chair to relax.

They began the third rubber and Tony was dummy.

"Would you mind fixing highballs?" Kilcran asked him.

Pamela was playing an almost impossible bid of six hearts. When Tony came back to the table with the drinks, Pamela had made it.

She drank thirstily from her glass when Tony gave it her, and he saw a vein in her temple throb as the tension of her concentration lessened. Her face looked white and strained and he laid his cool hand for an instant against her cheek. The glance she gave him made him think of a sick child who was his patient.

He said, "You mustn't put so much into playing cards, my dear. It's all for fun, you know."

Pamela smiled, but she didn't answer because the touch of his hand, the look in his eyes had touched her defensive little heart and she loved him for that moment. Anyway, there wasn't anything she could answer.

But she wondered what he'd think if she had answered, "I have to. Winning at bridge is the only way I have of getting the money I need so terribly."

She had unlimited accounts at the smart shops. Anything she wanted was hers for the asking. Tom paid her bills without questioning them, but her allowance was small and she had need for her bridge winnings. In the secret drawer of her desk she had a little more than $700, desperately earned. She'd been playing bridge since she was 12, playing with people who made a business of bridge, on steamships, in hotels, the places where time was killed and debts paid or accrued with the turns of cards, and she'd never liked the game. So now she smiled when Tony Bradshaw told her it was all "for fun."

It was after midnight when they finished the third rubber and Tony said he'd have to go.

Claire was gracious. "We'll see lots more of you, I hope. You might

Zup Tells Stars Bear Formation No Mystery

By H. C. Warren
CHICAGO, Aug. 27—A determined group of 64 athletes, the College All-Stars, was on edge today waiting the referee's whistle that will send 11 of them into action tomorrow night on Soldier field against the Chicago Bears in the ninth annual all-star football game.

After the first play the starting line-up, selected in a nationwide poll, may be altered as radically as desired by the coaches.

Three weeks of scrimmage, formations, and lectures from some of the best football minds of the country—Bob Zupke, Frank Leahy, Lon Stiner, Homer Norton, Lynn Waldorf and Burt Ingwersen—were behind the All Stars.

Last night in Soldier field they staged a dress rehearsal for tomorrow night's spectacle. Today this same band of 64 staged its final limbering up drill before the critical eyes of the coaches.

In a final lecture, Head Coach Zupke, who for 29 years served as head coach of the University of Illinois, said:

"The T-formation, which you will face tomorrow night when you take the field against the Chicago Bears can be beaten. Keep that in mind. If you all keep your assignments and play heads-up football, you will give sufficient proof that the T-formation can be beaten."

"The Chicago Cardinals have beaten the famous T-formation of the Bears and so have the Green Bay Packers, so it can be done. My assistants and I have gone as far as we can to defeat the Bears tomorrow night—the rest is up to you."

Zupke and his assistant coaches will rely on four of their own defense formations to cope with the T-formation as exemplified by the Bears. The all-star quarterbacks have been given implicit instructions that if one of the formations fails, the other three "cures" for the T-formation are to be applied in succession.

This year's game of the all-star series bids fair to out-do the previous eight games in the way of glamor and pageantry. There will be 2,720 service men in uniform in the center of the stadium when the 175-piece band strikes up the "Star Spangled Banner."

As might be expected, the Chicago Bears are top-heavy favorites to repeat the victory they scored over the 1941 college all-stars. Last year's game was a hard-fought, closely contested game for three-quarters, but the Bears put on the speed in the final period to crush the Collegians, 37 to 13. The all-stars have not won a game since 1938 and the Collegians now trail in the matter of games won, 4 to 2, with two of the contests ending in ties.

VANDALIA GUN TEST EXTENDED BY HUGE ENTRY

VANDALIA, Aug. 27 — Some 250 marksmen who failed to complete the 200-target race for class titles in the 43rd Grand American trapshoot, were scheduled to move to the firing line today.

Delay of the pigeon blasters in firing yesterday was expected by shoot officials today to extend the meet to Saturday, a day longer than the regular schedule. Only once in the 42 previous "grands" has an extra day been used in shooting off the marathon, that being in 1915 at Chicago.

The schedule of the quarter-mile firing line was expected to be further disrupted due to the fact that 657 scatter-gun experts have paid entry fees for the featured handicap which was to have been run off today and tomorrow. Only about 300 shooters can be accommodated on the course each day.

Leaders so far in the 200-target grind include:

Class AA—Julius Petty, Englewood, Ark., 200; Bill Drennan, Utica, Ill., 199; Karl Maust, Columbus, O., and Walter Beaver, Conshohocken, Pa., 198 each.

Class A—E. B. Chamberlain, Martville, N. Y., and Harold Stecher, Haven, Kan., 199 each; C. E. Huber, Tiffin, O.; Dick Williams, Lawrence, Kan., and J. H. Hinklin, Marion, O., 198 each.

Class B—Jim Stinson, Bradford, Pa., 198; George Dillon, Maysville, Ky., 197.

Class C—Marty Arft, Toledo, O., 194; Mrs. Ike Andrews, Sparrowsburg, S. C., 193.

Class D—Bobby Lee Stiffal, Casey, Ill., 195; James H. Williams, Nashauk, Minn., and J. D. Anthony, Grand Rapids

Zup Tells Stars Bear Formation No Mystery

By H. C. Warren

CHICAGO, Aug. 27—A determined group of 64 athletes, the College All-Stars, was on edge today waiting the referee's whistle that will send 11 of them into action tomorrow night on Soldier field against the Chicago Bears in the ninth annual all-star football game.

After the first play the starting line-up, selected in a nationwide poll, may be altered as radically as desired by the coaches.

Three weeks of scrimmage, formations, and lectures from some of the best football minds of the country — Bob Zupke, Frank Leahy, Lon Stiner, Homer Norton, Lynn Waldorf and Burt Ingwersen — were behind the All Stars.

Last night in Soldier field they staged a dress rehearsal for tomorrow night's spectacle. Today this same band of 64 staged its final limbering up drill before the critical eyes of the coaches.

In a final lecture, Head Coach Zupke, who for 29 years served as head coach of the University of Illinois, said:

"The T-formation, which you will face tomorrow night when you take the field against the Chicago Bears can be beaten. Keep that in mind. If you all play your assignments and keep your heads up, you will give sufficient proof that the T-formation can be beaten."

"The Chicago Cardinals have beaten the famous T-formation of the Bears and so have the Green Bay Packers, so it can be done. My assistants and I have gone as far as we can to defeat the Bears tomorrow night—the rest is up to you."

Zupke and his assistant coaches will rely on four of their own defense formations to cope with the T-formation as exemplified by the Bears. The all-star quarterbacks have been given implicit instructions that if one of the formations fails, the other three "cures" for the T-formation are to be applied in succession.

This year's game of the all-star series bids fair to out-do the previous eight games in the way of glamor and pageantry. There will be 2,720 service men in uniform in the center of the stadium when the 175-piece band strikes up the "Star Spangled Banner."

As might be expected, the Chicago Bears are top-heavy favorites to repeat the victory they scored over the 1941 college all-stars. Last year's game was a hard-fought, closely contested game for three-quarters, but the Bears put on the speed in the final period to crush the Collegians, 37 to 13. The all-stars have not won a game since 1938 and the Collegians now trail in the matter of games won, 4 to 2, with two of the contests ending in ties.

Chicago put the belt to the Yankees with a 5 to 3 victory, the first time this season the White Sox had scored a victory in the McCarthy's backyard at the stadium.

Jimmy Brown scored for St. Louis on a scratch hit by Coaker Triplett that fell lazily in front of the plate. Max Macon, the Dodger pitcher, rushed in and slipped as he retrieved the ball. There were two out at the time, with Brown on third and Terry Moore dancing menacingly on second base.

Macon, realizing he could not complete the final out by throwing to first base, tossed the ball widely to Mickey Owen at home plate. Brown thundered into the bag, bowling over Owen as he scored the winning run and for the second time in a row the Red Birds had bested the desperate Dodgers in an extra inning contest.

Tuesday night the pennant contenders had battled 14 frames before the Missouri pennants finally won the verdict, 2 to 1.

Beazley Gets 16

By beating the Dodgers yesterday, Johnny Beazley scored his 16th and most important victory of the season against five defeats. Macon went the distance for the flock, allowing nine hits, the same number as yielded by Beazley.

The Giants emerged from a five-game losing streak with an overwhelming 11 to 2 triumph over Cincinnati. The New York-ers smashed out 15 hits to take a tighter grasp on third place.

Philadelphia and Chicago split a twin bill, the Phils winning the eleven inning opener, 3 to 2, and the Cubs coming back to cop the finale, 3 to 0.

While the White Sox were beating the Yankees in the American league, the Boston Red Sox were helping their own cause in the fight for the flag by beating Cleveland, 4 to 1. The victory was Boston's ninth straight, with Bill Endlund hurling brilliant three-hit ball.

POLICE TOLD TO ENFORCE LAW ON TAXICABS

City Solicitor Declares Some Of Equipment Not Fit For Service

RECKLESSNESS CHARGED

Operators Now Must Obtain Licenses To Drive Autos Locally

Circleville police department was ordered Wednesday night by city council to clamp down on taxicabs which were charged during the session with becoming a steadily growing menace to public safety.

A resolution was adopted unanimously instructing Police Chief W. F. McCrady to enforce "to the letter" a rigid ordinance which governs the cabs, their operation and their drivers.

Council charged that despite passage of the ordinance several months ago nothing had ever been done about enforcing it. The legislation calls for licensing of cabs after close inspection of brakes, lights, tires, doors and other parts of the carriers. It also demands that all cab drivers be licensed by the city. None of the local company's drivers has ever been ordered to buy a license, council was told.

Enforcement Desired

"The cab company wants the ordinance enforced," City Solicitor Joe W. Adkins said, "so it can have some control over its drivers. But so long as the city doesn't do anything about the law that now stands on the record books why should the company take any action?"

He declared that many of the cabs now operating in Circleville are not fit to be on the streets, that brakes are missing and that doors do not shut securely. He recited an incident in which a door flew open as a cab was making a turn, tossing a child from one side of the street to the other. Fortunately, the youngster was not hurt, Adkins said.

Recklessness Alleged

The move to instruct Chief McCrady to have the ordinance enforced was made by Councilman-at-Large Frank A. Lynch who declared that many of the company's drivers are reckless and that the manner in which the cabs are operated is creating a menace.

Adkins declared that the company operates successfully in Chillicothe and in Lancaster where laws governing the vehicles and their drivers are enforced. "But," he said, "Circleville gets all the rattletap automobiles that cannot pass inspection in those two cities just because we don't do anything about our own laws."

CHARLES COOK FUNERAL

Funeral services will be held Friday at Brown's chapel for Charles C. Cook, 65, of Union township, Ross county, who died Tuesday. Mr. Cook was a brother of Michael Cook of Circleville. A son, daughter, five sisters and two other brothers.

"Miss Minnesota"

Auburn-haired Jane Goerner, 23, above, of Minneapolis, has been selected as "Miss Minnesota" to represent her state in the Atlantic City, N. J., pageant of beauty and talent, Sept. 7-13.

CITY INVESTS WILKES MONEY IN WAR BONDS

Circleville municipal government, aided by a $5,000 bequest from the will of Arthur C. Wilkes, late Circleville merchant and landowner, is doing its bit for Uncle Sam's war effort.

Solicitor Joe W. Adkins informed council Wednesday evening that the $5,000 bequest to the hospital in trust, proceeds to be used for any purpose the hospital believed necessary, had been used to purchase Series G War Bonds which pay two and one-half percent interest annually.

The bonds were purchased in the name of the city for the A. C. Wilkes Trust Fund for Berger Hospital.

The purchase was made this week, interest starting immediately.

CITY TREASURER TO COUNT CASH FROM METERS

Circleville council voted unanimously Wednesday evening to have Clerk Fred Nicholas inform City Treasurer Charles Kirkpatrick in writing that under city law he must count all money taken from the parking meters which are now serving automobile parkers in Circleville.

Kirkpatrick has counted the money several times, council was informed, but Miss Lillian Young, city auditor, has been handling the money most of the time. Under municipal law the city treasurer must handle all money taken in by the city.

NEUDING AGAIN TREASURER FOR U. B. CONFERENCE

E. S. Neuding, 341 East Main street, an active member of the Circleville United Brethren church for many years, was reelected Wednesday for the thirty-fifth year as treasurer of the Ohio United Brethren conference. The annual southeastern Ohio district meeting is held in the Washington avenue, Columbus, church this week. The Rev. Boyd Rife, host pastor, is a Pickaway county native.

Mr. Neuding read his thirty-fourth annual financial report of the conference at the session which will close Friday evening after the stationing committee reads its assignments. The Rev. A. N. Gruesser of the Circleville church is attending the conference.

The Rev. L. W. Green of Laurelville, former Pickaway Circuit pastor, was made treasurer of the preacher's aid committee at Wednesday's session. Two other former local pastors, the Rev. Porter E. Wright of Lancaster and the Rev. L. S. Metzler of Jackson, were named to important posts, the former as a trustee of the Anti-Saloon League of Ohio and the latter as a member of the home missions board.

The Rev. W. E. Riebel, who once served the Circleville church, was reelected secretary. He is pastor of Hilltonia avenue church, Columbus.

Among other posts filled were J. R. Bowser, Oak Hill, statistical secretary; Dr. W. G. Clippinger, Westerville, trustee of Anti-Saloon League; the Rev. D. S. Mills, Columbus, member of board of christian education.

COUNCIL REPLENISHES SEVERAL FUNDS OF CITY

Several city funds were replenished Wednesday evening by council which passed an ordinance to amend its appropriation measure.

Sewage disposal plant received $625, $200 of which goes for chemicals, $200 for maintenance and $25 for incidentals; Berger hospital was given $1,000, of which $250 goes for supplies, $600 for laundry and $150 for repairs, and the police department was given $200 for special policemen and $100 for equipment.

POLICE TOLD TO ENFORCE LAW ON TAXICABS

City Solicitor Declares Some Of Equipment Not Fit For Service

RECKLESSNESS CHARGED

Operators Now Must Obtain Licenses To Drive Autos Locally

Circleville police department was ordered Wednesday night by city council to clamp down on taxicabs which were charged during the session with becoming a steadily growing menace to public safety.

A resolution was adopted unanimously instructing Police Chief W. F. McCrady to enforce "to the letter" a rigid ordinance which governs the cabs, their operation and their drivers.

Council charged that despite passage of the ordinance several months ago nothing had ever been done about enforcing it. The legislation calls for licensing of cabs after close inspection of brakes, lights, tires, doors and other parts of the carriers. It also demands that all cab drivers be licensed by the city. None of the local company's drivers has ever been ordered to buy a license, council was told.

Enforcement Desired

"The cab company wants the ordinance enforced," City Solicitor Joe W. Adkins said, "so it can have some control over its drivers. But so long as the city doesn't do anything about the law that now stands on the record books why should the company take any action?"

He declared that many of the cabs now operating in Circleville are not fit to be on the streets, that brakes are missing and that doors do not shut securely. He recited an incident in which a door flew open as a cab was making a turn, tossing a child from one side of the street to the other. Fortunately, the youngster was not hurt, Adkins said.

Recklessness Alleged

The move to instruct Chief McCrady to have the ordinance enforced was made by Councilman-at-Large Frank A. Lynch who declared that many of the company's drivers are reckless and that the manner in which the cabs are operated is creating a menace.

Adkins declared that the company operates successfully in Chillicothe and in Lancaster where laws governing the vehicles and their drivers are enforced. "But," he said, "Circleville gets all the rattletrap automobiles that cannot pass inspection in those two cities just because we don't do anything about our own laws."

CITY INVESTS WILKES MONEY IN WAR BONDS

Circleville municipal government, aided by a $5,000 bequest from the will of Arthur C. Wilkes, late Circleville merchant and landowner, is doing its bit for Uncle Sam's war effort.

Solicitor Joe W. Adkins informed council Wednesday evening that the $5,000 bequest to Berger hospital in trust, proceeds to be used for any purpose the hospital believed necessary, had been used to purchase Series G War Bonds which pay two and one-half percent interest annually.

The bonds were purchased in the name of the city for the A. C. Wilkes Trust Fund for Berger Hospital.

The purchase was made this week, interest starting immediately.

CITY TREASURER TO COUNT CASH FROM METERS

Circleville council voted unanimously Wednesday evening to have Clerk Fred Nicholas inform City Treasurer Charles Kirkpatrick in writing that under city law he must count all money taken from the parking meters which are now serving automobile parkers in Circleville.

Kirkpatrick has counted the money several times, council was informed, but Miss Lillian Young, city auditor, has been handling the money most of the time.

Under municipal law the city treasurer must handle all money taken in by the city.

NEUDING AGAIN TREASURER FOR U. B. CONFERENCE

E. S. Neuding, 341 East Main street, an active member of the Circleville United Brethren church for many years, was reelected Wednesday for the thirty-fifth year as treasurer of the Ohio United Brethren conference. The annual southeastern Ohio district meeting is held in the Washington avenue, Columbus, church this week. The Rev. Boyd Rife, host pastor, is a Pickaway county native.

Mr. Neuding read his thirty-fourth annual financial report of the conference at the session which will close Friday evening after the stationing committee reads its assignments. The Rev. A. N. Grueser of the Circleville church is attending the conference.

The Rev. L. W. Green of Laurelville, former Pickaway Circuit pastor, was made treasurer of the preacher's aid committee at Wednesday's session. Two other former local pastors, the Rev. Porter E. Wright of Lancaster and the Rev. L. S. Metzler of Jackson, were named to important posts, the former as a trustee of the Anti-Saloon League of Ohio and the latter as a member of the home missions board.

The Rev. W. E. Riebel, who once served the Circleville church, was reelected secretary. He is pastor of Hilltonia avenue church, Columbus.

Among other posts filled were J. R. Bowser, Oak Hill, statistical secretary; Dr. W. G. Clippinger, Westerville, trustee of Anti-Saloon League; the Rev. D. S. Mills, Columbus, member of board of christian education.

COUNCIL REPLENISHES SEVERAL FUNDS OF CITY

Several city funds were replenished Wednesday evening by council which passed an ordinance to amend its appropriation measure.

Sewage disposal plant received $625, $200 of which goes for chemicals, $200 for maintenance and $25 for incidentals; Berger hospital was given $1,000, of which $250 goes for supplies, $600 for laundry and $150 for repairs, and the police department was given $200 for special policemen and $100 for equipment.
